OUR MANUFACTURES

Value Aggregates Nearly $15,000,000,000 Per Annum.

$1,086,000,000 IN EXPORTS

Report of John H. Carson, Chief of the Bureau of Manufactures—Cotton Seed Product Industry Represents Invested Capital of $100,000,000.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The report of John H. Carson, chief of the bureau of manufactures, for the year ended June 30, 1907, says that the value of the output of the manufacturing industries of the country is nearly $15,000,000,000 per annum. Last year the aggregate value of domestic merchandise exported was $1,854,000,000, an increase of nearly $136,000,000 over the preceding year. The aggregate value of manufactures exported in the year ended June 30, was $1,086,000,000, or more than 58 per cent of the entire exports for that year.

Special significance is attached to the increase of nearly $20,000,000 in the exports of completed manufactures in view of the fact that the exports of cotton cloths declined more than $21,000,000, this loss being entirely in the cotton trade with China. The popular feeling in that country growing out of alleged outrages against Chinese residents in the United States is assigned as a contributory cause for this decline.

The cotton seed product industry now represents an invested capital of $100,000,000. The exports for the year were upward of $40,500,000, an increase of $9,500,000 over the fiscal year 1906.

It is pointed out that one of the obstacles to the enlargement of our export trade is the uncertainty of transit between places of production and the seaboard. Merchants in the Orient especially complain that calculation cannot be made as to when goods ordered in the United States will be delivered, and in consequence orders go to European houses that should come to this country.

The bureau has been in correspondence with managers of railway and ocean steamship companies to secure more reliable and rapid transit for merchandise destined for foreign countries.

What is badly needed is a system by which carloads of merchandise consigned to foreign countries when started shall be kept moving continuously toward destination.

REAL DIAMONDS IN ARKANSAS.

Professor Says Surface Indications Are Good as Kimberley's.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 29—Prof. Philip Schneider, geologist at Syracuse University, who was employed by the state department of agriculture to make an investigation of the diamond fields of Pike county, has filed his report with State Commissioner Guy B. Tucker.

Professor Schneider in his reports says much of the land inspected is worthless, but that a few acres, comprising what is known as the Huddleston and Money places, comprise the promising diamond land.

He says surface indications in this territory equal those in the Kimberley fields in South Africa. The earth resembles in every respect the soil in and around the Kimberly tracts.

Professor Schneider says there can be no doubt that genuine diamonds have been taken from the Huddleston tract.

An Aged Family.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 29—W. R. Chambers, perhaps the oldest resident of Pennsylvania, died recently at his home in Crell. He was 105 years old and at the time of his death was in full possession of all his faculties. His death was due to the infirmaties of old age. He was born at Derby Ireland, and came to this country 45 years ago. In addition to leaving a sister in Ireland, who is 103 years old, Mr. Chambers is survived by two sons and one daughter, each of whom is over seventy years of age.

ISSUES RESTRAINING ORDER.

Sweeping Injunction Against All Railroad Laws Recently Passed.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 29.—Judge Thomas G. Jones, of the U. S. district court, has granted a restraining order which has the effect of temporarily suspending all of the railroad regulation legislation passed at the extra session of the legislature which recently adjourned, as they apply to the Louisville and Nashville, the South and north Alabama, the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, and the Central of Georgia railroads.

The court suspends the laws temporarily for an investigation of the claims made in the bills that they are confiscatory and unconstitutional.

All sheriffs, solicitors, clerks, possible passengers or shippers are with the operations of the Central of Georgia, the Louisville and Nashville, the South and North and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis. The bills are sought to be supplemental to the injunctions now pending against the old laws, and the orders cover every possible offender.

In addition, the Central Trust company of New York has filed suit against the Central of Georgia, as a result of which an order like those in the railroad petitions has been issued, restraining every officer of the state from attempting to enforce the rates, also preventing any employee of the road from making or accepting rates lower than those now in effect. This company holds the second inestopped from in any way interfering come mortagage bonds of the Central, and alleges that at any less rates than those now collected it will be impossible to earn enough money to pay the interest.

The railroad cases will be heard before Judge Jones on December 2, and that of the Central Trust company on Dec. 15.

MAY REDUCE AMOUNT.

Only $50,000,000 May Be Issued in Treasury Notes.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Owing to the large amount of subscriptions received, the secretary of the treasury has announced that the subscription to the 3 per cent certificates of indebtedness of the act of June 13, 1898, invited by the circular of November 18, 1907, is closed, and that no subscriptions received after the close of business on Nov. 28, will be considered.

The decided improvement in business conditions throughout the country makes it possible that the secretary will not extend his allotments further than those already made.

If considerably less than $100,000,000 is allotted in the certificates, it will not be because the subscriptions are not large enough to cover the amount.

Calculations are already being made as to probable conditions in the money market next spring, and the ability to call in a part of the certificates. If the amount issued should be only $50,000,000, and half of these should be paid off in six months, the interest charges would fall materially below the $3,000,000 originally calculated upon the full issue for one year. The sum of $25,000,000 for six months would draw interest to the amount of $375,000, and an additional amount of $25,000,000 for one year would draw $760,000, making a total of $1,125,000. This would be at the rate of less than 1½ per cent per capita for the people of the country.

Teddy's Thanksgiving Turkey.

Westerly, R. I., Nov. 29.—The Thanksgiving turkey, which Horace Vose annually sends to the president of the United States, was shipped by Mr. Vose to Mr. Roosevelt Tuesday. This year's bird, however, was raised by Jeremiah H. Brown. It weighs 28 pounds, is of the bronze variety, and has a mixture of wild blood.

Thanksgiving Day for Prisoner.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Frank Earl, who was under sentence to be electrocuted Thanksgiving night, for the murder of William Legg, a butcher at Sidney, Ohio, was granted a respite until Dec. 4, to allow a board of pardons to consider his case, the supreme court, having denied him a new trial.

MANY ARE CREMATED

Two Hundred Laborers Caught In Fire Trap.

SEVEN BODIES RECOVERED

Explosion of Natural Gas Results in the Death or Fatal Injury of Many Persons at Kansas City, Mo.—Bodies Badly Burned.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 29.—Fire, caused by an explosion of natural gas in a rooming house occupied by two hundred railroad laborers at St. Louis avenue and Santa Fe street, Thursday morning, resulted in the death or fatal injury of many of the inmates.

Seven of the bodies, burned beyond recognition, have been taken from the ruins.

One man was fatally burned and another was fatally injured by jumping from a second story window.

DIED OF ALCOHOLISM.

Melancholy Fate of Former Kentucky Beau Brummel.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 29.—Though all Louisville shunned him during the last years of his wrecked life, all Louisville talked of Jack Sage when it was learned that he had been found dead in the basement of the City Hall as the result of extreme alcoholism. His entire youthful life had been sunken so many years in his dissipations that the ragged and maudlin old man left no immediate kin who will acknowledge the relationship. He will be buried at the city's expense.

Not a safe in any bank in the city was a puzzle to him, and for years he was regarded as the most expert mechanic in the country in this direction. Jesse James once wrote and offered him half of a gigantic railroad haul if Sage would open an express safe. He turned the letter over to the police. Often in his cups he was approached by crooks and begged or threatened in the hope that he would open some safe that baffled them. He would never consent.

He was a member of an excellent family, and in his youth moved in the best society of Kentucky. He was known then as a faultless dresser. Of late he was conspicuous for rags and squalor. It was said by a circuit judge that a love affair led to Sage's downfall.

CHILDREN WASHED OVERBOARD.

Three Little Children Carried Away by Wave's Rush Through Gangway.

San Francisco, Nov. 29—The steamer President, from Seattle, arrived here and reported that on Friday three little girls were swept overboard and lost.

Off Cape Flattery the sea was high, but the sky was bright. Florence Buckman, aged 13, and Rita and Ada Schotte, aged 12 and 4 respectively, were playing in a gangway below the bridge, amidships. This gangway forms a kind of a funnel through which the water pours when the deck is flooded. It is supposed that a large wave struck the ship and that water swept the little children overboard.

The Schotte children had come from Australia with their mother to meet their father, who lives here.

Ohioan's Grim Fate.

Akron, Ohio, Nov. 29.—"Returned on account of death of party addressed," written in Spanish across the envelope of a letter sent Oct. 21, is all that is known of the fate of William A. Kilmer, who left his wife in this city two years ago to manage the Cattania Placer Mining company, near Pihuamo, in the mountains of Mexico. Kilmer was a leading business man here.

Tried Fists, Then Pistols.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 29.—William Rigsby shot Taylor Kirby in the latter's saloon on Holmes street, and in turn Kirby shot Rigsby. Kirby was slightly wounded, but Rigsby may die. The two men had fought with fists an hour before in another saloon. Rigsby is in jail.

TRIES TRIPLE MURDER.

Slashes Throat of Niece, Her Mother, and Then Attempts Own Life.

Lithonia, Ga., Nov. 29.—With his pocket knife, Enoch Sanders, a stone cutter, 35 years of age, Wednesday morning, it is alleged, attempted to murder his little niece and her mother, the latter of whom sought to defend her daughter, and then attempted suicide.

The scene of the alleged murderous attack was at the home of Mrs. Alice Sanders, one mile east of Lithonia. Mrs. Sanders is a widow and besides her daughter, Bertha, a pretty girl of thirteen years, she has several other children. Enoch Sanders boarded with the family.

Both mother and daughter are badly hurt, but will recover. Sanders, it is thought, will also get well.

It is alleged that Sanders has for some time been insanely jealous of his niece, Bertha.

Wednesday morning, without any apparent cause, he ran amuck. It is said he first went in search of the girl, whom he found in one of the rooms of the house. Brandishing his knife, he clashed the little miss about the throat.

Her screams brought her mother, who sought to defend her. Sanders, it is claimed, made a lunge at the woman with his knife. She was cut on the hand.

Seeing his bloody work, Sanders then faced about like a demon and cut himself repeatedly about the throat with his knife. He was bleeding from many jagged wounds when a physician arrived. It is stated that Sanders would have died in a few minutes had not the flow of blood been stopped.

The doctor carried Sanders to Lithonia soon after binding up his injuries, where he is now being held.

TIRE BURST,

And Cabanne's Automobile Collided with a Tree—Fatally Injured.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 29.—Gratiot Cabanne, scion of one of the oldest families in St. Louis, formerly well known as an all-around athlete and a Glidden tourist in the last great automobile tour, was probably fatally injured when a tire on the front wheel burst while he was driving at a fast clip in Forest Park, causing the car to swerve from the road and collide with a tree. Mr. Cabanne was thrown from the front seat headlong against the tree and was dropped back beneath the wreck of the machine. The shock of the impact threw Ralph Orthwein and Samuel Kessler from the rear seat in the toneau of the car. Orthwein escaped with a few minor bruises and slight cuts. Kessler sustained a sprained back and was badly bruised about the body. His condition is not considered serious.

EXPLOSION DAMAGES HOTEL.

Maybe There Was Dynamite in the Coal, the Proprietor Says.

Bloomfield, N. J., Nov. 29.—An explosion in the cellar of John Ashworth's hotel in Orange street wrecked the barroom, caused the ceiling to fall and twisted the woodwork as though a cyclone had struck it. The boiler was forced through a partition fifteen feet away.

The explosion occurred soon after the janitor had put in some coal and Mr. Ashworth said there may have been some dynamite or powder in the fuel.

The noise was heard several blocks and people rushed from their homes. The firemen were called out but their services were not needed.

The damage was several thousand dollars.

$30,000 Fire at Anniston.

Anniston, Ala., Nov. 29—The store and stock of Bell & Weatherly, wholesale grocers, was destroyed by fire at an early hour Wednesday morning. The loss is estimated at $30,000, fully covered by insurance.

Two Were Drowned.

Milford, Del., Nov. 29.—The small schooner Grace Collins was capsized in Delaware Bay in a storm and Captain Geo. S. Holland and Robert Rolland, the mate of the vessel, were swept overboard and drowned.

A $50,000 FIRE AT MONTBROOK

Sawmill Plant of The Florida Land Company Went Up in Smoke.

THE DRY KILNS WERE BURNED

Together With a Large Quantity of Lumber, Some of Which Was Loaded on Cars Ready for Shipment—No Insurance—Plant May be Rebuilt.

The entire sawmill plant of the Florida Land Company at Montbrook, together with the dry kilns and all the lumber, was burned to the ground on Thanksgiving night, entailing a loss, it is said, of about $50,000. It is also stated that there was no insurance on the buildings or stock.

The Florida Land Company is composed of John F. McNair, D. W. McArthur and N. G. Wade, all of whom have been leading spirits in the development of the country west of Gainesville. The sawmill plant had a capacity of about 50,000 feet per day, and was one of the most modern in this section of the State. It was erected about eight years ago, and has since employed a large number of men.

The Florida Land Company is also extensively engaged in the manufacture of naval stores, and has in the vicinity of Montbrook two fine stilling plants, but neither of these were affected by the fire, being quite a distance from the sawmill.

It is not learned whether the plant will be rebuilt, but inasmuch as the company yet has an extensive acreage of timber in that vicinity, it is assumed that they will erect another plant.

T. M. King of Live Oak, one of the old and valued employes of the Southern Express Company, has accepted the position of agent of the Gainesville office, vice Agent H. K. Hooks, who resigned a few days ago on account of his health.

Gill, also of Live Oak, and an old employ of the Southern Express Company, and will no doubt "make good" with the patrons of the office here. It is understood that Cashier McCook has been transferred to a messenger's position, and he will be given a good run.

Little Misses Oliver and Kite Entertain Their Young Friends.

A most delightful birthday party was tendered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Oliver Friday afternoon, the occasion being a joint party in honor of the birthdays of little Miss Bessie Oliver, ten years, and her cousin, little Miss Leola Kite, nine years.

The color scheme was pink and white, and was carried out to pretty effect throughout the entire house. The parlor was appropriately decorated with pink and white chains of tissue paper, while the same effect was carried out in the dining-room, chains or streamers of tissue being used to a fine effect from each corner of the table to the electric light at the center. The mantel in the dining-room was also attractively decorated in pink and white, with handsome hand-painted china pieces. The floral decorations were also fine.

On the dining-table were two immense cakes, one containing ten, the other nine candles, of white and pink. These candles were extinguished by the young guests during the afternoon with "three blows and a wish."

The refreshments were ice cream and cake, the color scheme of pink and white being carried out even here with good effect.

There was a peanut hunt during the afternoon, in which little Miss Emma Lee Hudson was awarded the first prize, a handsome Japanese china dish, while the consolation prize fell to Master Chas. Hunter.

At the conclusion of the festivities at the home, the little folks participated in a straw ride, the teams "distributing" them to their respective homes. Notwithstanding that the weather conditions were unfavorable, the affair passed off in a most delightful manner, and the little guests are under lasting obligations to their hostess' for the pleasures of the afternoon.

MR. DEWEY WAS HERE.

Was Agent of Florida Southern at Rochelle for Many Years.

Among the visitors to Gainesville Friday was John R. Dewey of Jacksonville, who made The Sun an appreciated call.

Mr. Dewey is by no means a stranger in this section of the country. He was for a number of years agent of the old Florida Southern railroad at Rochelle, leaving his position there about eleven years ago for Miami, where he resided up to a couple of years ago, when he removed to Jacksonville. He is well known by the elder citizens of Gainesville, many of whom had the pleasure of greeting him again Friday.

Mr. Dewey stated that he had always harbored a feeling of confidence in the future of Gainesville, even "way back yonder," and was glad to live to see his predictions realized in the matter of commercial advancement, etc. He was very much gratified at the healthy growth of the city.

CONDITION OF PERRY CHILD.

Child Burned on Wednesday Yet in Bad Condition, But May Recover.

The two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Perry, which was so badly burned on Wednesday, is yet in a serious condition, and has suffered a great deal.

Dr. E. Lartigue, the attending physician, states, however, that the chances for the child's recovery are fair.

Friends of the parents sympathize with them greatly in their trouble, but hope the little one will yet come out all right and fully recover.

DEATH OF MRS. HANCHETTE.

Elderly Lady Passed Away, After Years of a Useful Life.

One of the saddest deaths to occur in this city for some time was that of Mrs. James Hanchette, which occurred at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Yocum, after an illness of several months.

Deceased was well advanced in years, being eighty-six years of age. She was a native of New York State, being born near Albany in 1821. In 1849, however, she removed to Wisconsin, where she was married, and where she remained until 1862.

From Wisconsin deceased removed to Chicago, where she entered the Chicago Art Studio, and after becoming a graduate taught for ten years in Fort Wayne, Ind. In 1889 she came to Florida, where she has since resided, spending a greater part of the time at her home near Bartow, but for the past few years making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Yocum.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church, and for many years was active in church work. Owing to her advanced age, however, she was compelled to give this work up several years ago. She was a woman of tender, kind disposition, and was loved by all who knew her, being of a most patient disposition.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Thos. J. Nixon of the First Methodist church conducting the ceremony. Friends of the family are invited.

Deceased is survived by a husband, now ninety-four years of age, a daughter, Mrs. W. F. Yocum, and several grand-children, among them Mrs. Gary, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

The hunting party comprising Superintendent J. B. Cutler of the Tampa and Jacksonville railroad, Judge J. A. Carlisle, Col. Robt. E. Davis and Captain Ivers, who have been away for the past two or three days on a hunting trip in the former's private car, the Tuscawilla, have returned to their home. While the luck reported was nothing extra, at the same time the party enjoyed about all the fine quail they could eat, which were temptingly prepared in Judge Carlisle's own way.

FRANK CLARK WILL WORK FOR FLORIDA

Congressman From Second District Will be Heard From Often.

TRY TO REFUND COTTON TAX

His First Bill of the Session Will Provide for Same—He Will Also Introduce Other Bills of More Than Ordinary Interest.

[From Times-Union of Nov. 26th.]

Hon. Frank Clark of Gainesville, Congressman from the Second Congressional District of Florida, arrived in the city yesterday from his home, accompanied by Mrs. Clark. They will leave this morning for Washington, stopping over at Athens, Ga., where one of their sons is at school.

At the Aragon hotel yesterday Mr. Clark was called on by a number of his Jacksonville friends. To a Times-Union reporter, in reply to a question as to what important matters had been occupying his attention during his vacation, and what new measures he expected to bring before Congress at the coming session, Mr. Clark said:

"I am on my way to Washington to attend the approaching session of Congress. I was at Live Oak yesterday and last night, with the Hon. William G. Smith of the Bureau of Soils, Department of Agriculture, who is down here at my solicitation, to deliver a number of addresses to the farmers of this district.

"Mr. Smith was at Lake City today, and will be in the State for the balance of this week, speaking at Jasper, Starke, DeLand and Orlando. His lectures are extremely and highly educational, as he points out to the farmers the quality of the different soils, the best methods of cultivating the same and the best means of procuring good seed and of increasing the yield year by year.

"I am extremely sorry that Mr. Smith cannot at this time go over the entire Congressional district, but I am hopeful that at some time after the holidays we may be able to have him, and one or two other gentlemen from that department, make us a visit and go into every county in the Second Congressional District; and while I am upon this subject I desire to say to the people of my district that I am going to make a very strong effort to procure a complete and accurate soil survey by department officials of every county in this Congressional district. After that has been done I intend, if possible, to have the different sections tested for the growth of high grade tobacco.

Seed-Testing Stations.

"Another thing that I am endeavoring to accomplish at this particular time is the location of six or eight seed testing and breeding stations in the Congressional district. The purpose of a seed-testing and breeding station is to secure by scientific [illegible] growth upon our own soil [illegible] best seed adapted to this [illegible] I am informed by these [illegible] that we can grow in Florida [illegible] good seed for the production of Sea Island cotton as can possibly be grown in South Carolina, and the purpose, as before stated, to [illegible] stations located right here.

Refund of Cotton Tax.

"The important work, however, that I intend to undertake in the approaching session of Congress is to secure the refunding to the Southern people of the large amount of money collected from this people during the years 1862 to 1868, by a levy of a tax upon cotton.

"I have been applying myself all my vacation to the study of this question, and have prepared a exhaustive brief on both the law and the facts concerning this matter. I have prepared a bill on this subject, which I expect to introduce on next Monday, the first day of the new session.

"A tax was levied by Congress by an act passed in 1862 by which a tax of one-half of one cent per pound was levied on all lint cotton. In 1864 this tax was increased to 2 cents per pound. In 1866 another act of Congress increased the tax to 3 cents per pound. In 1867 still another act was passed fixing the rate of taxation at 3 cents per pound. In 1868 the act went into force was repealed. Under these different acts of Congress taxes were collected from all the cotton in the United States to the amount of $68,000,000, which is now lying in the Treasury of the United States.

Illegally Collected.

"The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that these taxes were illegally and wrongfully collected, and there is no question but that in law and equity and good conscience this vast amount of money belongs to the people from whom it was taken in defiance of law. Bills have been introduced by Southern Representatives at different times seeking a refund of this money, notable among which was the bill introduced by the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia, in the Forty-third Congress; but at that time passion, prejudice and sectional hate so flourished at the National capital that it was useless to attempt legislation of this character. Now, however, when the last vestige of sectional animosity seems to have disappeared from our national life, I feel quite sure that the representatives from the North will be ready to aid in righting this admitted wrong.

For Rural School Fund.

"Over $60,000,000 of this money goes to the States lying South of Virginia and $918,000 comes to the State of Florida. My bill provides for the payment of this money into the treasuries of the respective States wherein it was collected, there to remain for a definite time in order to allow the persons who paid this tax, their heirs or legal representatives, ample opportunity in which to establish their claims; and all of the money remaining after the time allowed for the presentation of claims, and proof in support thereof, to escheat to the State and be converted into the rural school fund of the State. This, it occurs to me, is the best disposition to be made of the money; and I am, as before stated, going to devote my time and energies to the collection of this money.

Money for Moving Crops.

"I believe there is nothing else that might interest the people at this particular time, except I might add that I am hurrying to Washington for the purpose of meeting the Secretary of the Treasury in conjunction with the rest of our delegates, to make an effort to induce the Secretary to deposit in the banks of the long staple cotton belt sufficient funds to move the crops, and thus relieve present conditions.

"It will not require a great deal of money, and it seems to me that while the Secretary of the Treasury is unloading money to the great banks of New York City, he might divert a small portion of it to smaller banks in the agricultural sections of our country for the purpose of moving the crops, and thus relieve the situation in so far as our agricultural interests are concerned.

"It occurs to me that the administration of governmental affairs in this country, that the farmer—the producer, the real hope of the country's progress—should be given some consideration, and I believe the Secretary of the Treasury will be disposed to do that.

Will Be a Candidate.

"You ask if I shall be a candidate to succeed myself?

"Permit me to say, upon that suggestion, that I did not attend a gathering recently held in Ocala because of the fact that circuit court was in session in Alachua county, and my duties to clients absolutely forbade my leaving Gainesville. I deem it hardly necessary to say that I shall be a candidate to succeed myself in the primaries next year.

"My own opinion is that it is too early for the opening of a campaign, and I sincerely trust that the real opening of the campaign may be delayed as long as possible, to the end that our people may be permitted to go about their usual business affairs, undisturbed by political meetings, until within a reasonable time before the holding of the primaries themselves.

"I do not yet know of any opposition to my re-election, and I am led to believe, by the assurances I get from all over the district of approval of my Congressional career by the people, that I will not have any opposition for a renomination. This is certainly very gratifying to me. I have been doing my best to make the people of this district a good representative in Congress, and my every effort in the future shall be toward the accomplishment of that end."

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup? Such a man exists. Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

C. D. Dennis, general superintendent of the Dutton Phosphate Company, spent Thanksgiving in this city.

W. A. Snowden of Micanopy, Jesse I. Griffin of Jonesville and N. A. Callison of Spring Park Farm were visitors to the county capital yesterday.

We have secured the agency for Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup, the new laxative that makes the liver lively, purifies the breath, cures headache and regulates the digestive organs. Cures chronic constipation. Ask us about it. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Route Agent Rhodes of the Southern Express Company left yesterday for Waycross, Ga., where he went on official business. Mr. Rhodes is an efficient and obliging official, and is exercising every effort to make the service up-to-date in every way.

C. C. Pedrick has returned from Morriston, where he went on account of the sad death of his brother, James Pedrick, which occurred Tuesday. The funeral was held Wednesday, and inasmuch as the deceased was a very popular citizen of that section, was largely attended. Friends of Mr. Pedrick extend sympathy in his hour of bereavement.

A number of young people of the city spent Thanksgiving night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crown, Jr., Rocky Point, the occasion being a Thanksgiving sugar-boiling, tendered by these hospitable people. The party was compelled to remain during the night, owing to inclement weather, but all had a good time, and feel under lasting obligations to Mr. and Mrs. Crown.

Mrs. Gary of Ocala, who has been for the past few weeks on a visit to Washington, is in the city, having been summoned on account of the serious illness and subsequent death of her grandmother, Mrs. James Hanchette, who passed away yesterday. Mrs. Gary is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Yocum. Friends extend sympathy in the death of her relative.

A LEVY COUNTY TRAGEDY.

Information Received of Shooting of Colored Woman Near Lennon.

Information has been received of a serious affray occurring in the vicinity of Lennon, Levy county, on Thanksgiving day, but nothing authentic could be learned. It appears, however, that a negro, who was already under bond for the shooting of another man, went to the home of a negro woman, and, slipping up behind her, emptied the contents of a double-barrel shotgun loaded with babbitt metal, into her back. The woman is still alive, but chances for her recovery are against her.

A Handsome Remembrance.

One of the pleasant features of Thanksgiving day was the presentation by W. R. Steckert to Rev. S. B. Rogers of a handsome Knight Templar charm.

Dr. Rogers has for years been a devoted and enthusiastic member of this degree of Masonry, and is quite popular with Pilgrim Commandery here. The presentation was quite a surprise, but a deserved compliment and a high honor from a friend and brother Mason.

Alabama Cotton Men Meet.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov 29. The Alabama Cotton Manufacturers' association, B. Milner, secretary, is in session here. It was announced that the purpose of the meeting is to discuss the curtailment of production, which will probably result in the closing down of several mills throughout the state. The attendance is good, almost all mill interests of the state being represented.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propogates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not disolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FIERCE FIGHT WITH EAGLE.

Massachusetts Farmer Finds Wounded Bird Almost a Match for Him.

Pittsfield, Mass., Nov. 29.—James Bolger of Peru, 13 miles east of this city, had a hot fight with a bald eagle which invaded his pasture and made off with a lamb.

Bolger's attention was attracted by the bleating of the lamb and he ran out with his gun. He was in time to get a shot at the bird, breaking one of its wings. As it fell to the ground Bolger attacked it with a club. The eagle fought viciously with beak and talons and wing and Bolger was badly punished, his hands and face being badly torn and his clothing ripped to rags. He finally landed a fatal blow on the eagle's head.

The eagle was brought to this city. It measured eight feet across the outspread wings.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elnora, N. Y., writes: "Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50-cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Famous Barytone a Suicide.

Berlin, Nov. 29—Theodore Bertram, one of the greatest Wagnerian barytones in Germany, has committed suicide at Bayreuth. His act was due to despondency over his wife's death in the wreck of the steamer Berlin at the Hook of Holland last February. Since then his mental and physical health has steadily declined. He was for a long time a member of the Royal Opera and was a favorite of the Kaiser.

Dancing Proves Fatal.

Many men and women catch colds at dances which terminate in pneumonia and consumption. After exposure, if Foley's Honey and Tar is taken it will break up a cold and no serious results need be feared. Refuse any but the genuine in a yellow package. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Rich Youth Is Missing.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 29—Allen Cushman, aged 25, dark hair and eyes and of prepossessing appearance, the son of wealthy parents at Lancaster, N. Y., who has been a guest of the Hotel Gates at Hendersonville, near here, is missing. The Cushmans have wired Hotel Proprietor Hewitt to spare no expense to find him. A score of detectives are employed in the search for the missing man.

Pneumonia Follows a Cold

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents pneumonia. J. W. McCollum & Co.

ENTERTAIN BURGLAR.

Widow and Son Compelled to Talk to Robber for Four Hours.

Albany, Ga., Nov. 29.—Mrs Mafia Land, a well to do widow, and her fourteen-year-old son, Quintus, were forced to sit and talk to a burglar until it ceased raining.

As the night was very inclement, Mrs. Land had four hours of conversation with the burglar before he cared to risk going out of doors.

Mrs. Land was roused about midnight by a noise in her room. She called: "Who's there?"

The burglar flashed a dark lantern and commanded her to be quiet. Her young son, in an adjoining room, was also roused and entered his mother's room. The burglar told the boy to get into bed with his mother and seating himself in a chair by the bed he covered them with a revolver and forced them to talk to him.

"My health is delicate," said the burglar, "and I can't venture out while it is raining."

The burglar, who wore a half mask, was white, and Mrs. Land says, was very intelligent and treated her with great respect. When the rain ceased and he arose to depart, he said to Mrs. Land:

"I am sorry to have kept you awake but I dare not get wet."

The burglar got about $300 in money and jewels from Mrs. Land.

JUDGE GRAY'S BOOM.

Supporters Held Meeting in His Interest for Presidency.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 29.—Another meeting of the supporters of Judge Gray for the democratic presidential nomination was held in the office of Municipal Judge Cochran, one of the leaders in the movement. Nothing definite was accomplished, for the reason that no report has yet been received from ex-Senator Kenney, Delaware member of the national committee, regarding his efforts for the judge at the French Lick meeting.

A report is also awaited from the committee appointed to arrange for the distribution of the judge's address on "The New Federalism" at Washington coincident with the opening of congress.

The movement in Washington will mark the formal inauguration of the boom. The supporters will meet here again, when ex-Senator Kenney will probably make a personal report on his efforts at French Lick. The meeting was essentially a Wilmington gathering.

This is Worth Remembering.

As no one is immune, every person should remember that Foley's Kidney Cure will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. J. W. McCollum & Co.

As a direct consequence Coca-Cola has been careful y analyzed in every section by the most eminent chemists, and never in a single instance has a derogatory report been returned. Vandal Steals Girl's Tresses.

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 29.—Eleven-year-old Olivet Farber, daughter of Joseph Farber, was shorn of her beautiful black tresses while in a moving picture theater by some vandal, who made his escape in the darkness of the house. The theater was crowded, and Olivet was watching the moving pictures so intently that she did not detect the man in the act.

She Cut Throat of Her Son.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Elizabeth D. Smith, a widow, suffering from mental trouble, slashed the throat of her 22 year old son Philip with a razor as he slept. With blood streaming from the gash he seized his mother as she was about to jump into a cistern. Assistance arrived just as he was fainting from the loss of blood. He is expected to recover.

The extra-session talk has again been revived. Governor Broward would relieve a long-suffering public by either calling the body together or announcing that he will not do so. Relieve the suspense, Governor, and be done with it.

The New York Commercial remarks that it is funny that, with all the suggestions offered for getting the hoarded money again into circulation, nobody has thought to suggest the suspension of the laws designed to curb the activities of burglars. The result would no doubt be immediate and effective.

Prices are higher in France, as they are here, and from the same causes. A dispatch from Paris deploring the excessive cost of living attributes it to "protectionism, militariasm, improvement and wasteful public expenditures. Strikes, unionism, and bad legislation rushed through with feather-head levity."

As an evidence of the prosperity of Gainesville, the banks here did not have to resort to the policy of issuing certificates to depositors instead of paying them the currency when they presented their checks. Like all other business enterprises in Gainesville, the banks are upon a solid foundation, and the depositors have unlimited confidence in them.

It seems to us that the shipment of green moss for holiday decorations might prove a profitable venture. Nothing makes a prettier decoration than our long, trailing Spanish moss.—Ocala Banner. The Banner has suggested a venture which ought to prove profitable and deserves the attention of some enterprising man. There is enough Spanish moss in Alachua county to decorate the universe, and it can be had for the asking.

The Live Oak Democrat says, "Frank Clark doesn't need to make any better speech all over the Second Congressional District than he made in Live Oak Monday night to get all the votes necessary to secure his re-election over any adversary who can be induced to take the field against him. At present that adversary is not in sight, and we suspect that he will be conspicuous by his absence all during the campaign."

The first copy of The High Springs Herald, Geo. T. Taylor, editor, is at hand. In his salutatory the editor says: "The Messenger shall be independent. Its policy will be educational, political, religious, moral, for better and better schools, clean politics, men in office from constable to governor, and more love and religion in our Christian homes, and will work earnestly for a better citizenship and for our boys of the future."

It comes to office seekers early is by no means a modest proposition. That city wants both United States Senators, the Governor, Congressman and in fact the whole ticket. It remains to be seen if the voters of the interior will submit to the same. Many of us are willing for John Stockton to succeed Senator Broward, but we draw the line at giving them another United States Senator and the Congressman.

NO REPETITION.

Ex-Superintendent W. N. Sheats has announced that he will again be a candidate for the position of Superintendent of Public Instruction, saying that it is vindication which he seeks from the people rather than the office itself. Of course Mr. Holloway will want to be re-elected and we have no hesitancy in saying that if we are to have a repetition of the campaign of a few years ago between these two gentlemen then it were better that both of them be "snowed under" hard and sufficient and a new man be elected to the place.—Madison New Enterprise.

Editor Smith and others need have no fear of a repetition of the campaign of 1904 between Holloway and Sheats, as Superintendent Holloway has given his word through The Sun that he will not permit himself to be drawn into such a campaign under any circumstances. He has made a good official in every particular, and is justly entitled to renomination and election.

The extra session of the Alabama Legislature does not seem to have solved the railroad problem. The roads have secured an injunction from Judge Jones, of the United States Court, enjoining the enforcement of the laws enacted at the extra session regulating freight rates, on the ground that the same amount to confiscation of their property, as they claim they cannot make operating expenses and a reasonable rate of interest on money invested. It seems impossible for the railroads and Governor Comer to come to any amicable agreement.

All the concrete work on the big viaduct of the East Coast extension will be completed this month. They are now laying track on Knight's Key and passengers for Cuba can be handled on the road during the present season. But Hearst's Journal lately said the complete collapse of the scheme was breaking Mr. Flagler's heart, so it must be that Hearst's sense of decency will have a broken back soon—if the man ever had such a possession as spinal decency.—Times-Union.

Already a number of industrial plants have been forced to shut down, says a dispatch from Wall Street, owing to the money conditions, which means that these conditions are working their own cure." Such is the consolation of the Wall Street gamblers. Thousands of men are without employment. Prices of wheat and cotton have declined. And this is hailed as a godsend and a cure of hard times by the frenzied financiers who caused the panic.

The question of the economy of establishing a criminal court of record in Alachua county is being discussed by some members of the Gainesville bar. If the establishment of such a court should be deemed for the best interest of the county the enactment of the necessary law could be passed by procuring the required petition and Governor Broward calling the matter to the attention of the Legislature at the extra session, should he call one.

The people of Jacksonville had reason to give thanks last Thursday, the city council having decided to decrease the expenses of the city government instead of increasing the tax rate. Gainesville tax payers, however, had no such thing to be thankful for, nor will they next year unless some changes are made in the membership of the council at the election next April.

The rumor of a visit here of German warships when our fleet shall have departed for the Pacific seems to have been baseless. Germany doesn't believe in perfunctory calls by card.

College of Brazen Nose.

The odd name of Brazen Nose (Brasenose) arises from a combination of circumstances, some of which are among the most interesting features of the history of Oxford university. From the earliest period the members of the university and the townspeople were engaged in continual broils, breaking out sometimes into such violence that bloodshed ensued. The townspeople, however, appear to have had the best of it, and so again and again their antagonists withdrew from the place and left Oxford without a university. At one time Northampton was the place of their retreat; at another Stamford, in Lincolnshire. At this last named place were the remains of a Norman gateway belonging to one of the colleges thus established. On the door there was of old an iron ring fixed in a nose of brass, to serve the purpose of a knocker, and the college became known through that feature as Brazen Nose. On the return to Oxford, which took place after a little time, the members of the college took the name with them.—London Answers.

Terrors of the Skies.

In the aerial war of the near future man will be staggered not by the spectacle, but by the slaughter. For the spectator there will be little to see beyond a number of faint gray linear objects like whetstones silhouetted against the sky. But each of these drab colored objects is an airship which can easily carry from ten to fifty torpedoes weighing from 110 to 165 pounds. The havoc wrought by a small fleet of Zeppelin airships would be frightful. It could pursue the fastest battleship and send it to the bottom. The battleship is at a terrible disadvantage. It is easily damaged from above. It has a speed of twenty-five knots against a speed of nearly thirty knots possessed by its adversary. Pursue the comparison to questions of cost and of crew. The Patrie, costing $60,000, with a crew of three, and Count Zeppelin's giant airship, costing $125,000, with a crew of six, are each capable of annihilating a battleship, value $10,000,000, with a crew of nearly 1,000 men.—Dr. Rudolf Martin in London Magazine.

The Traveler Guessed Well.

A captious traveler in northern Arkansas stopped by a fence to criticise a sear cornfield which met his disapproval. "Mighty small corn you have there!" he shouted to the man who was superintending the growth from a shady corner.

"Yep," said the Arkansan. "Planted the small kind."

"Looks mighty yellow to me for this time of year."

"Yep. Planted the yellow kind."

"Well," said the traveler severely, "I can't understand your method of farming. You won't get over half a crop there."

"Nope," said the Arkansan cheerfully. "You are shore a good guesser, stranger. Half a crop exactly, that's mine. I planted this on shares."—Youth's Companion.

AN EVENING ATTACK.

The Easy Way Travelers Are Held Up In Savage Europe.

The Balkans can boast of cities which are miniature replicas of London and Paris, declares Mr. Harry De Windt, the author of "Through Savage Europe." These are civilized centers. But the remoter districts are, as of yore, hotbeds of outlawry and brigandage, where you must travel with a revolver in each pocket and your life in your hand, and of this fact Mr. De Windt had unpleasant proof.

In the district called Ropitza an elderly Turk urged us to pass the night at a squalid inn where our driver had taken us. Failing to persuade us, the old villain disappeared and so effectively plied our driver with sliwowitz that he could not sit up on the box until sunset. It was therefore dark before we could set out, along a narrow road, hewn through dense pine forest.

But the game little team dashed along and must have covered about a mile when there came a violent lurch, followed by a crash, and I found myself in the dusty road within an inch or so of unpleasantly active iron heels. The driver had been hurled by the shock clean over the horses' heads and lay motionless.

Fortunately my companion, like myself, was uninjured, and we set to work to repair the damage and assist the plunging and terrified ponies to regain their legs.

A pine tree which had fallen across the track was the cause of the disaster, but the carriage was luckily intact, and only a trace was broken, which I hastened to repair with the aid of rope and a jackknife. Then a curious thing happened.

"Look behind you!" suddenly exclaimed my friend, and I turned hastily, to discover perhaps twenty silent, shadowy forms, which had apparently sprung out of the earth around us.

There was no "Your money or your life!" business about this strange band, but its methods were quite as effectual. "You will give us 200 dinars"—about £8—"and we will help you shift that tree," said the spokesman in Servian, and I instantly recognized the voice as one I had heard that afternoon in the inn.

Resistance was of course useless, for a match was kindled by the speaker ostensibly to light a cigarette, but probably to reveal the gleam of firearms in every man's belt. They numbered more than twenty, we only three, and one of our number half stupefied with drink and terror.

There was nothing for it but to pay up and look pleasant, and, having removed the barrier, obviously placed there by themselves, the robbers vanished as rapidly and silently as they had appeared on the scene.

Two Great Poets Who Were Blind.

In the roll of the great poets of the past two who hold the very highest places were for an important period of their lives unpossessed of the power of vision—Homer and Milton. Happily these renowned followers of the muses made good use of their eyes in youth; otherwise it is scarcely possible that they could have left to us the finished pictures of natural scenery and other visible objects of creation which are to be found among their compositions. Homer had reached manhood and had written a considerable portion of the "Iliad" before he was attacked by that disease of the eyes which robbed them of their wonted powers. But the whole of the "Odyssey" was composed after the occurrence of this great mishap. Milton is stated by most biographers to have permanently lost his sight in 1654 after a progressive and warning decay of several years' duration. "Paradise Lost" was not published till 1667, and it was composed when the poet was perfectly blind.

Closer to Nature.

We get closer to nature when we are creating, whether in art, in literature, in invention or in working at new and progressive ideas. We can feel our mind reach out into infinity and grasp and bring back something fresh, new, something never seen on this earth before.—Success Magazine.

Riches of Simplicity.

Poverty is relative. Thousands who call themselves poor would be rich on their incomes if they would abandon senseless and vulgar competition with their neighbors and live more simply.—London Truth.

Where It Fails.

"Silence is golden," remarked the party with the quotation habit.

"Perhaps it is," rejoined the contrary man, "but a dentist has never yet been able to fill teeth with it."—Chicago News.

Soul Mated.

"She declares they were made for one another."

"How does she make that out?"

"He earns about the monthly amount she'd like to spend."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

FOR CONFEDERATE PENSIONS.

Hobson, the "Merrimac Hero," Preparing Bill for Congress.

Atlanta, Nov. 29—Richmond Pearson Hobson, the "Hero of the Merrimac," proposes to ask congress to pension confederate soldiers. Hobson is preparing a bill and has written Governor Hoke Smith for data concerning Georgia's confederate pension roll.

Hobson says his purpose is to have the government appropriate such an amount that the confederate veterans now on the rolls of the states of the south may receive with their state pensions a sum equal to that received by union veterans.

The south, says Hobson, has long been contributing to pay the pensions of northern soldiers and as the United States has adopted the policy of returning war indemnity to foreign nations, he thinks the government ought to return a small part of the pension money already paid by the southern states.

TO FIGHT BRYAN IN ALABAMA.

Democrats Organizing Against Instructed Delegation.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 29—Walker Percy, a prominent democrat and lawyer, is the leader of a movement which has gained such strength to work against Alabama sending a Bryan delegation to the national democratic convention.

He denies that there is to be an effort to organize another party or to strengthen the republican party. He says the fight is to be made within the democratic party.

Three hundred prominent men, business men, manfacturers and others, have signed the agreement to work against a Bryan delegation.

In the same period of 1906 there were 45 permits issued for such buildings.

DO-YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE WATERMELON.

Not What It Used to Be, at Least In the Eating Thereof.

In the old days, when the world was much better than it is now, there were good watermelons.

As we remember them, the watermelons of twenty-five or thirty or thirty-five years ago were huge affairs. They were none of your overgrown cucumber effects of today, but were great big round fellows, and the outside was a dark green. It was the same shade of green as the reflection of the trees in a swimming hole.

And when you sunk the knife into it the rind ripped and cracked for two inches ahead of the blade, and the melon just laughed itself open.

Hold on! You didn't use a knife. You lifted the melon above your head and dropped it to the ground, and it burst open, as red as a rose and a hundred times as sweet. And you ate nothing but the heart—just the chunky red heart.

Nowadays the marketman shows you an oblong affair done in pale green and greenery-yallery stripes, with a white blotch on the underside, that he calls a watermelon. And you cut it into slices like bologna sausage and eat it with a fork, like pie.

And you have forgotten whether a watermelon goes plink-plink or plunk-plunk when it is ripe, because it doesn't make any difference now.—Wilbur D. Nesbit in Chicago Post.

THEY WON'T SHUT DOORS.

And They Will Ride Backward, Reports a Traveler of Englishmen.

Travelers returning from England tell of two habits of the people of that country which impressed them. One is the average Englishman's aversion to shutting the door behind him.

"I don't know how it is in the English houses," remarked one who has toured England, "for I was not in one of them. But I stayed in a hotel in London where there were a good many English people, and a dozen times daily I had to get up and shut a door to keep the draft away.

"It didn't make any difference whether it was a servant or a guest who went through, the door was left open. This was in the spring of the year, too, when the weather was chilly. I noticed the same thing in railway coaches and hotels of smaller towns."

The other English peculiarity is a preference for riding backward on trains. The Englishman will make for the seat with its back to the engine every time, plant himself down in it with every evidence of comfort and look wonderingly at anybody who picks out a seat facing the direction the train is going. Not once did one American traveling in England see a native choose a seat facing the front of the train unless there were no other seats.—New York Sun.

There is No Reason

Why your baby should be thin, and fretful during the night. Worms are the cause of thin, sickly babies. It is natural that a healthy baby should be fat and sleep well. If your baby does not retain its food, don't experiment with colic cures and other medicine, but try a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and you will soon see your baby have color and laugh as it should. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

A Wife In Bondage.

He is that rare and greatly to be admired person, a real live duke, and he holds sway over many workers. To give him his due, he is a good master, and for the most part his kindness is greatly appreciated by his employers.

But Bob Willet is a laborer with democratic proclivities and marked distaste for work, and recently his ducal master determined that the one thing to do with Bob was to dismiss him, whereupon he did so, and Bob came to the conclusion that the time had now arrived when the pride of the peerage should be humbled. The difficulty was to think of something sufficiently biting, for the duke was a good master, as has been remarked. Then an inspiration flashed on Bob. The duke's duchess had been appointed a lady in waiting to the queen, and this was Bob's opportunity.

"All right, yer grace," he said, "I'll go, but I'll take heirt to say this. Though I'm a poor man I've never had to send my missus out to service and that's more'n some people can say."—London Chronicle.

Voting Terms.

"Ballot," as generally used, has wandered far from its original meaning of "little ball." Even "blackballing" is no longer necessarily literal. Language has several fossil relics of primitive methods of voting. Most famous is "ostracism," which perpetuates the memory of the "ostrakon," the potsherd or shell upon which the Athenian citizen voted for the banishment of a too prominent personage. Another instance is "spondulicks," the slang word for money. A "spondulos," properly a vertebra of the spine, came to mean any round thing and in particular the voting pebble or its metal equivalent.

HOW BONNER WON SUCCESS

The career of Robert Bonner, the veteran publisher, furnishes a signal illustration of the value of persistent and sagacious advertising. When he began the publication of the paper whose phenomenal success brought him fame and fortune, he did not wait for the people to find out, slowly and gradually, the interesting features of his journal.

He forced his enterprise upon public attention by a systematic lavishness of expenditure for advertising which at that time was without precedent or parallel. Whole pages of daily newspapers were secured at high prices to blazon forth the merits of his undertaking.

From one end of the country to the other the names of Bonner and his Ledger were made familiar to the people by constant repetition.

Conservative publishers, jogging along in the ruts of old routine, prophesied bankruptcy and ruin for this unconventional innovator, but Bonner kept on spending a large share of his receipts in buying publicity, and those receipts increased with startling rapidity.

Every dollar disbursed in this way brought in more dollars until croakers were confounded and pessimists in this particular branch of business silenced by his tremendous success.

The lesson is one that is as well worth heeding today as it was forty years ago.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

NATURE PROVIDES FOR SICK WOMEN

a more potent remedy in the roots and herbs of the field than was ever produced from drugs.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines and Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., in her study of roots and herbs and their power over disease discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value.

During its record of more than thirty years, its long list of actual cures of those serious ills peculiar to women, entitles Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the respect and confidence of every fair minded person and every thinking woman.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful functions, weakness, displacements, ulceration or inflammation, backache, flatulency, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

No other remedy in the country has such a record of cures of female ills, and thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound and what it has done for them.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. For twenty-five years she has been advising sick women free of charge. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and as her assistant for years before her decease advised under her immediate direction. Address, Lynn, Mass.
